

Craft-e-Creations

Hello, my name is Jeanie and I'm the designer and owner of Craft-e-Creations. I've been an avid crafter for many years but started making my own papers and toppers to use in my card making about 6-7 years ago. At that time it was a hobby and the cards that I made were for work colleagues, friends and family. Now, I design and create collections for others to use in their card making. These collections include backing papers, toppers, sentiments, tags, inserts, parchment patterns, templates and image stamps.

Copyright

Copyright is an intellectual property right that exists to protect the rights of the person who has created something and covers many different things. The current act is the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988. All of the items that I create are covered by this law.

Infringement of Copyright can include but it is not limited to: Copying, renting, reselling, sharing, adapting, distribution either freely or for financial gain.

I would like to point out that I encourage the people that buy my products to sell their finished cards and I place no limits on this. There are other craft suppliers that put limits on this but there is a clause about 'Fair Usage' in Copyright law that allows you to sell your finished items, it comes under the name of 'incidental inclusion' this would only cover a finished article and not the designs themselves.
