Polly Plastics sells moldable plastics, craft plastics and rock tumbling supplies for hobbyists, crafters, players, fixer-uppers, makers or anyone who wants to try stuff.

We're proud of the products that we package here in Michigan. We only sell the best products available at affordable prices - never using recycled, off-grade plastic or inferior materials.

We will protect our quality products and brand by removing unlawful users of our brand trademark, intellectual property and/or protected images. Our trade names and trademarks are valuable assets that represent the quality that we produce and stand behind. We prohibit use of our listing content, logo, images and product names.

Our product photos are professionally created at our expense and are not allowed to be copied. The simple rotation of the photo and/or the addition of text on the photo do not mean that the photo copyright has not been violated.

Even if you do not have an intention to misuse our copyrighted material, it does not mean that you are not responsible for that action. It is your responsibility to ensure that your listings do not violate our copyrighted material. You should always make sure that you are providing original listing materials and that your products are not counterfeit.
