eBay VeRO Enforcement

Buying Garmin Products Safely on eBay Garmin sells many devices which incorporate upgradable software, maps, or firmware. However, counterfeit software, maps, or firmware may put the integrity of your authentic Garmin device at risk and will void the warranty of your Garmin device.

Many websites make counterfeit or unauthorized Garmin products available for purchase online. Garmin monitors such websites to protect our customers and safeguard our legal rights. Unfortunately, sellers often use eBay to sell counterfeit or unauthorized products to target unapprised buyers. Authentic versions of Garmin products can be purchased from any of Garmin's authorized distributors, listed here:

Reselling Garmin Products on eBay If you are a seller whose listing has been removed, your listing has most likely been terminated by eBay because of action taken by Garmin. Common reasons why your listing may have been terminated include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Trademark Infringement - the item offered for sale may be an unauthentic product which infringes Garmin's intellectual property rights or the content of the listing contains unauthorized use of Garmin's protected trademarks.
2. Copyright Infringement - the listing may contain Garmin's copyrighted text, images, or other materials or the item offered for sale may be hardware and/or software that comprises pirated content, was offered for sale in violation of an enforceable license agreement, or unauthorized use of Garmin's copyrighted text, images, or other materials
3. Unauthorized Dealer Representation - no eBay users should ever represent themselves as an authorized dealer because Garmin's authorized partners are not permitted to sell our products directly on eBay.

Reporting Suspected Counterfeit Products To voluntarily report suspected counterfeit products, please email details and contact information to copyright_uk@garmin.com or copyright@garmin.com.
