

HouseLabels.com

HouseLabels was founded in 2009 with these principles:

- manufacture a high-quality product by not overlooking any component: face stock, adhesive and glassine
- price in a way to provide outstanding value to our customers
- ship quickly since many customers wait until the last minute to reorder
- provide excellent customer support as the test of any organization is how it performs under adverse situations

We are incredibly humbled by how well these principles have been received in the marketplace and the resultant breakneck pace in the growth of our business. We look forward to continuing to improve and enhance our product offerings as well as providing quick shipping and responsive customer support.
