

InkBed Inc.

InkBed is an American company that works closely with tattoo artists and their clients to innovate and produce top quality furniture and products for the industry.

At InkBed, we believe the best products are designed by tattoo artists, for tattoo artists. All of our products are designed with ergonomics and comfort in mind – not only for the tattoo client, but also for the artists themselves.

InkBed owns several domestic and international patents, trademarks, copyrights and other intellectual property rights covering our wide range of diversified products worldwide. As InkBed has built up a significant reputation in its marks and products over a number of years, we are determined to protect our intellectual property in the most effective way possible.

Accordingly, InkBed will remove infringing listings from this and other online platforms to protect these valuable rights.

To learn more about our company and our culture of innovation, visit www.InkBed.com