

Leupold and Stevens, Inc.

Welcome to Leupold's About Me page. We assume you have been directed here because your auction has been canceled. Leupold believes the item you are auctioning is a counterfeit of a Leupold product. Many such low quality knockoffs copy both the Leupold product and packaging. The attempted sale of such products infringes one or more of Leupold's intellectual property rights including, but not limited to, copyrights, trademarks, design and utility patents, and trade dress rights. Use of Leupold's trademarks such as Leupold, LR/T, and Mark 4 in the advertisements for auctions of bogus products may also infringe Leupold's rights.

Leupold takes great pride in the quality and craftsmanship of our products. To protect our customers and Intellectual Property, Leupold will continue to monitor eBay for sales of infringing products. While Leupold may choose not to pursue this particular matter further, Leupold will not hesitate to initiate formal legal action if an eBay seller habitually attempts to sell infringing products.
