

LifeWave Inc.

About LifeWave

David Schmidt is the inventor of LifeWave technology and its founder and CEO.

David's experience in business and product development spans over 30 years and includes a formal education in Management Information Systems and Biology at Pace University in Pleasantville, NY. David then went on to pursue several entrepreneurial endeavors and, as a result, owned successful companies involved in manufacturing and product development.

One of these companies, Advanced Applications Group, is a research and development center that specialized in energy-production technologies for both military and commercial applications. During his time with AAG, David developed new methods for producing hydrogen and oxygen, designed and prototyped multi-fueled, bladeless-turbine power generation systems, and constructed metal-combustion rocket engines.

As a result of his innovations, David was presented with an honorary doctorate by Dr. Alexander Marinaccio of the International Hall of Fame of Inventors. In addition, as a result of work performed in the design of emergency oxygen systems for General Dynamics and the U.S. Navy, David was invited to participate in the Navy's next-generation mini-sub program.

The LifeWave Technology was born out of three years of intense research by David into the concept of being able to naturally increase energy and stamina through elevation of fat burning, utilizing wireless communication to the human body via phototherapy.

Globally, David is the holder of 94 issued patents, with many more being written. More than seventy of those issued patents are in the field of regenerative science and technology. One of his inventions, the Double Helix Conductor, produces a novel blend of electromagnetic and non-electromagnetic fields to improve the speed of wound healing that rivals that of stem-cell injections.

Driven by David's innovation and proven by science, LifeWave is a patented life technology company dedicated to honoring the light of life and maximizing your potential, while holding true to its values of high product standards, leading with service, being socially responsible, and striving to make a difference through unprecedented humanitarian advancement.

LifeWave Intellectual Properties (Trade Names, Trademarks, etc.)

LifeWave's trade names, trademarks, copyrights, and service marks are established valuable, proprietary business assets. These assets are used to identify and protect the official source and the reputation of LifeWave's products and services globally and distinguish the LifeWave brand from any potential competitors. As such, LifeWave allocates notable resources and efforts to protect its intellectual properties to ensure that others do not misuse them or mislead consumers regarding LifeWave's products.

Important Notice About LifeWave Products on eBay

All LifeWave products purchased on eBay are done so as independent transactions between the eBay seller and buyer only. These transactions are not approved or backed by LifeWave in any way. Such transactions DO NOT carry any LifeWave guarantees or warranties and are NOT eligible to be returned to the company for a refund/exchange. LifeWave ONLY recognizes products purchased directly through approved online sales channels (of which eBay is not) or directly from an Independent Brand Partner through an approved sales transaction. For questions regarding the above notice, please contact LifeWave's compliance department via e-mail at: compliance@lifewave.com