

Poppy Company

Please note that Poppy Company is a member of eBay and of eBay's VeRO program and our advertisements and images are protected.

eBay's Verified Rights Owner (VeRO) Program works to ensure that items listed for sale do not infringe upon the copyright, trademark or other Intellectual property rights of third parties. VeRO Program participants/members may identify and request removal of infringing listings.

Poppy Company will do so to protect our company, images, works and rights against unauthorized use and infringement. We hold the exclusive rights for our photos, descriptions, graphics, layout, text, and our name and business name. All of our images, photographs, text, logo and designs which appear on eBay site and on our own website are protected under copyright law.

Posting our photographs, video, audio, printed materials or other of our intellectual property in association with a sale on eBay infringes our copyrights and we will notify eBay to cancel such sales immediately.
