Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

Q: Can I use the Prodigy Diabetes Care name in my auction to sell another product?

A: No. Using Prodigy Diabetes Care's name or trademarks in a way that could confuse potential buyers into believing your product is endorsed by or affiliated with Prodigy Diabetes Care is prohibited and may violate federal trademark laws.

Q: Can I use Prodigy Diabetes Care's logo in my listings?

A: No. Unauthorized use of Prodigy Diabetes Care's logos or trademarks in product listings is prohibited. This could mislead potential buyers into thinking the product is associated with or endorsed by Prodigy Diabetes Care, which could result in legal action.

Q: Why was my auction suspended or canceled?

A: Your listing may have been removed because Prodigy Diabetes Care, LLC believes the item infringes on our intellectual property rights. This could include the sale of counterfeit products or unauthorized use of our trademarks.

Q: Why did eBay allow me to post my auction?

A: eBay cannot pre-screen all auctions for IP violations. It is Prodigy Diabetes Care, LLC's responsibility to monitor and protect our intellectual property. If you believe your listing was wrongfully removed, please contact us.

Q: How can I tell if the item I am buying or selling is genuine?

A: The best way to ensure the authenticity of Prodigy Diabetes Care products is to purchase directly from authorized sellers or our official website. Products from unauthorized sellers may be counterfeit, expired, or improperly stored, compromising quality.

Q: Can I use Prodigy Diabetes Care's images to sell products?

A: No. All images, marketing materials, and product photographs associated with Prodigy Diabetes Care are copyrighted. Unauthorized use of these materials is prohibited and may result in legal consequences.
