FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q. Why was my auction removed?

A. Your auction was removed because we consider the item that you were selling an unauthorized copy of a program from the ANGELWARDROBE Collection. The unauthorized duplication of these programs is an infringement of ANGELWARDROBE's rights under the United States Copyright Act. Those found guilty of willful infringement could be liable for statutory damages as high as $100,000.

Q. Why hasn't Angel Wardrobe removed all auctions selling infringing products?

A. Not all ANGELWARDROBE products sold on ebay are infringing or unauthorized. It is legal to re-sell the single authorized Cloak or Robe series that you purchased, as long as it is listed as previously viewed or used (unless unopened). However, you cannot make copies of authorized Cloak or Robes and sell them. Put simply- Cloaks you purchase may be resold. Copies you make may not.

Although ANGELWARDROBE vigorously enforces its intellectual property rights and makes every effort to police the marketplace, some infringing items may be missed. All sellers of infringing items that Angel Wardrobe is aware of or becomes aware of are put on notice of Angel Wardrobe's intellectual property rights and pursued if they do not stop infringing.

Q: What if I didn't realize I was violating the law or infringing Angel Wardrobe's rights?

A: Innocent intent is not a defense under Federal copyright law. You have a responsibility to ensure that your actions do not violate someone else's copyrights. As an eBay seller, it is your responsibility to ensure that the item you are attempting to sell is legitimate and authorized.

Q: I purchased the item legitimately, why cannot I re-sell it?

A: Infringing products may at times be offered for sale, and innocent purchasers may unknowingly buy infringing products. Nevertheless, the existence and sale of such products is still considered infringement. You can spot many unauthorized items from their packaging.
