

Tad-Bits Baby Items and More LLC

We are a member of The Verified Rights Owner (VeRO) Program which lets intellectual property rights owners request the removal of listings on eBay that offer items or contain materials that infringe on their rights. This helps protect members of the eBay community from purchasing items that may be counterfeit or otherwise unauthorized.

We as intellectual property rights owners can request that Ebay remove listings that we claim, under penalty of perjury, offer an item or contain material that infringes on our intellectual property rights. These rights can include trademark, copyright and other legal rights.

We do randomly check Ebay products to see if our images or text or any other things are being used. If we do find these on Ebay we will have them removed.

We have changed how things are ran through our Ebay business over the years and currently we are only shipping one day a week-Thursdays. We have a ton of our information available in our Ebay store, so please feel free to read all the policies and procedures on there.

If you have any questions, please email us at tad_bits@yahoo.com.
