

The Digi Sync

eBay Verified Rights Owner (VeRO) Program Profile

Our Intellectual Property Rights

The Digi Sync holds enforceable intellectual property rights including, but not limited to:

- Registered trademarks (e.g., "The Digi Sync")
- Copyrighted product descriptions, manuals, images, packaging, and digital content
- Proprietary designs and product configurations

These assets represent the innovation, engineering, and reputation of our business. Use of our intellectual property without written authorization is strictly prohibited.

Participation in eBay's VeRO Program

The Digi Sync is an active participant in eBay's Verified Rights Owner (VeRO) Program. We monitor listings and work directly with eBay to remove infringing content. If a listing uses our copyrighted images, descriptions, product names, or logos without permission, it will be reported.

Common Violations

Your eBay listing may be removed if it involves any of the following:

- Use of our product images or text without permission
- Use of "The Digi Sync" name in association with unrelated, fraudulent, or counterfeit items
- Involved in credit card fraud or scams.
- Sale of unauthorized copies, imitations, or rebranded tools claiming Digi Sync compatibility

- Drop-shipping items using stolen product descriptions or branding
- Bundling of unauthorized accessories or manuals representing them as official Digi Sync content

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Why was my listing removed?

Your listing likely violated The Digi Sync's intellectual property rights by using our name, branding, or content without approval. Even if the product appears similar or compatible, misrepresentation or unauthorized use is prohibited.

2. Can I sell a used Digi Sync unit?

Yes — used, genuine Digi Sync products may be resold if the listing uses original photos and descriptions created by the seller. Do not copy our images or product descriptions.

3. Can I list a product as “Digi Sync compatible”?

Not without prior written permission. Claims of compatibility can be misleading and will be treated as brand misuse.

4. Why are other sellers allowed to list Digi Sync products?

Some sellers are authorized distributors or are selling genuine new and/or used items correctly. If you suspect a listing is in violation, you may report it to us directly.
