

About Triple F.A.T. Goose

Triple F.A.T. Goose, established in 1987, stands as a pioneering down jacket company continuously pushing boundaries in recycled down and performance fabrications. We take immense pride in our intellectual property rights, including trademarks and copyrights, spanning our current and past jacket collections. With a steadfast reputation built over years of dedicated craftsmanship, we actively remove infringing listings from various online platforms to protect these valuable rights.

The use of copyrighted photographs of Triple F.A.T. Goose products or models for promotional purposes is prohibited. Additionally, the reproduction and sale of unauthorized copies, as well as the customization of products modifying trademarks, are strictly prohibited.

Counterfeit products, often of high quality, make it challenging for buyers to discern authenticity. While it's difficult to track all infringing items on eBay, we cannot guarantee the authenticity of any Triple F.A.T. Goose item sold there.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ):

Q: Why was my auction terminated?

A: If your auction was removed, it's because we believe it infringes our intellectual property rights. This may involve unauthorized copies or items incorporating our intellectual property not sold or licensed by us.

Q: Why didn't Triple F.A.T. Goose contact me directly before reporting my auction?

A: Contacting each seller individually would be impractical given the volume. Our focus is on removing infringing items.

Q: Can I re-sell a genuine Triple F.A.T. Goose item on eBay?

A: Yes, you can re-sell genuine items in their original, unaltered form without modifications.

Q: Can I use terms like 'Replica' or 'Fake' in my listing?

A: No. Manufacturing, distributing, and/or selling unlicensed goods infringe on our intellectual property rights, with legal consequences.

Q: Can I use Triple F.A.T. Goose trademarks for appeal?

A: No. Use of our trademarks wrongfully implies authorization, sponsorship, approval, or endorsement.

Q: Why does Triple F.A.T. Goose care about single -item sellers?

A: Our reputation and intellectual property rights are vital. Counterfeit products harm our reputation, necessitating action to remove even single -item auctions.
