Vortex Optics (a division of Sheltered Wings, Inc.) is committed to selling quality optics products and accessories, and to providing excellent customer service.

To ensure and maintain its reputation for selling and servicing high quality optics products, Vortex Optics only sells its products directly to consumers, or through authorized dealers. A list of authorized dealers of Vortex Optics products can be found at <http://www.vortexoptics.com/content/dealers>.

Vortex Optics also owns valuable intellectual property rights, including patent, trademark, trade dress, and copyrights in its products.

When an eBay listing that infringes Vortex Optics' intellectual property rights is brought to our attention, we will review the matter and respond appropriately. For additional information about our products or intellectual property rights, please contact:
