

TwoPointOh Games is a leader in designing, publishing and distributing toys, games, and puzzles around the world. A great deal of time, effort, and financial resources are devoted to the development of our products for consumer use, and we take great pride in providing safe products for everyone to enjoy.

To that end, TwoPointOh Games is committed to protecting the reputation of its brand to help protect consumers from infringing or potentially hazardous counterfeit products. We monitor eBay and maintain active membership in the Verified Rights Owners program (VeRO), and are committed to protecting our copyrights, trademarks and other intellectual property against unauthorized use. Our name, logo, photographic images, and item descriptions that appear on our website, on our Amazon store, and our eBay store are protected by state, federal and international laws and may not be used without our permission. Use of these pictures, text and graphics without permission from TwoPointOh Games violates federal copyright law. Additionally, you may not advertise in any way as an authorized dealer of our branded products.

If an infringement of any copyrights, trademarks or other proprietary rights is identified on eBay, we will notify eBay and request that the listing or sale be cancelled.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

Q: Why was my auction suspended?

A: TwoPointOh Games strictly enforces its copyrights, trademark rights and other proprietary rights against unauthorized use. We believe that your listings on eBay for one of our protected brands infringes upon our rights, and therefore, we requested that eBay remove your listings.

Q: Can I use the TwoPointOh Games logo, or other properties owned by TwoPointOh Games to add to my auction listing?

A: No. You cannot use any logos or imagery on your listing. This would wrongfully imply that your auction is authorized, sponsored or approved by TwoPointOh Games and is in violation of state and federal trademark laws.